INTRODUCTION TO POLICY GOVERNANCE

The Brattleboro Food Co-op's board of directors practices a form of leadership called Policy Governance®. Created by John Carver and practiced by many cooperative boards, it's a governance model designed to empower boards to fulfill their obligation of accountability for the organizations they govern. The model enables the board to focus on the larger issues, to delegate with clarity, to control management's job without meddling, and to rigorously evaluate the accomplishment of the organization; in other words, to truly lead its organization.

In contrast to the approaches typically used by boards, Policy Governance separates issues of organizational purpose (ENDS) from all other organizational issues (MEANS), placing primary importance on those Ends. Policy Governance boards demand accomplishment of purpose and only limit the staff's (i.e., the general manager's) available means to those that do not violate the board's pre-stated standards of prudence and ethics.

Policy Governance gives boards the capacity and role clarity to truly be trustees for the member-owners. (Note: BFC has moved away from the term "members" in favor of "shareholders," which we feel better captures the essence of ownership and responsibility in our co-op.)

Policy Governance addresses the fundamental challenges of governing boards:

- How can representatives of shareholders responsibly exercise control over activities they will never completely see, toward goals they cannot fully measure, through jobs and skills they themselves will not master?
- How can boards remain accountable, without needlessly constraining the creativity and responsibility of management?
- How can boards lead when Board members disagree, when time is limited, and when current issues demand attention?

Policy Governance provides benefits including:

- Clarity of Group Values. The authority of the board is not as individuals but as a group. Policies are the explicitly stated "voice" of the board as a whole.
- Clarity of Board & Management Roles. A board adds unique value to the cooperative. Governing by policy clarifies the board's job and focuses the board on leadership. Clear guidance through policies effectively uses the expertise of the general manager and the board.
- Leverage and Efficiency. By handling the most fundamental issues through agreed-upon policies, the board can affect many decisions with less effort. Boards that use time well are more effective.

The Four Types of Policies and Brattleboro Food Co-op's Policy Governance Manual:

The BFC board's policy governance manual is broken into four quadrants (sections), each representing one of the following types of policies:

- A. Ends: The board defines which human needs are to be met, for whom, and at what worth. Written with a long-term perspective, these policies embody most of the board's part of long-range planning.
- B. Means/Executive Limitations: The board establishes the boundaries of acceptability within which staff methods and activities can responsibly be left to staff. These limiting policies, therefore, apply to staff means rather than to ends and are the policies that the general manager must work within in the overall management of the co-op.
- C. Board-Management Delegation (Board-Management Relations): The board clarifies the manner in which it delegates authority to staff, as well as how it evaluates staff performance on provisions of the Ends and Executive Limitations policies.

- D. Governance Process (Board Process Policies): The board determines its philosophy, its accountability, and specifics of its own job.

Policy Monitoring:

The GM is responsible for overseeing the fair and proper execution of A. and B. policies. A monitoring report for each policy is presented by the GM to the board at pre-determined times throughout the year. Monitoring consists of comparing performance data against a reasonable interpretation of each policy and allows the board to know the degree to which a reasonable interpretation of each policy is being fulfilled. Each monitoring report should seek to answer two questions: (1) has the GM or the board made a reasonable interpretation of the policies, and (2) does the data demonstrate accomplishment of that interpretation? The board should expect to see the GM's interpretation of the policy along with justifications for the board to find them reasonable, as well as the data that demonstrates achievement of those interpretations. The board is then responsible for fairly but rigorously deciding whether the data in a GM monitoring report credibly prove compliance.

C. and D. policies are monitored by the board. An on-line survey is initiated by the board administrator for each policy and the results collated for discussion by the full board. (The board calendar contains the GM and board monitoring reports schedule.)

The Policy Governance model does not dictate what a board does if it finds a policy to be in non-compliance, except that it cannot ignore the non-compliance. In some instances, the board's best judgment would be to declare the non-compliance, but take no disciplinary action unless the non-compliance continues. In other instances, immediate firing of the GM might be best. And there any number of options in between. It is possible, of course, that the board—having had its attention drawn to the policy being monitored—will choose to change the policy. However, policy change is a separate issue and never to be done simply because of non-compliance, but only due to an actual change in the board's values about the matter.

C - BOARD/MANAGEMENT RELATIONS

C.1 - Board/Management Relations

Board Relationship: The only official connection of the Board to the operational organization, its achievements, and conduct shall be through the general manager.

C.1.1 Unity of Control: Only decisions of the Board are binding on the general manager.

Accordingly:

C.1.2 Delegation: Decisions or directives of individual Board members, officers, or committees are not binding on the General Manager except in instances where the Board has specifically authorized such exercise of authority.

C.1.3 Requests for Information: In the case of Board members or Board committees requesting information or assistance without Board authorization, the general manager can refuse such requests if, in the opinion of the general manager, the request requires a material amount of staff time, resources, or is disruptive to operations. All requests for information will be made to the general manager and not to the staff.

Approved 3/26/01

C.2 - Delegation to the General Manager

The Board will instruct the general manager through written policies that prescribe the organizational ends to be achieved and describe organizational situations and actions to be avoided, allowing the general manager to use any reasonable interpretation of these policies.

C.2.1 The general manager is authorized to establish all further policies, make all decisions, take all actions and develop all activities that are a reasonable interpretation of the Board's policies that have been delegated to them. The Board may extend its policies by "un-delegating" areas of the general manager's authority, but will respect the general manager's purview so long as the delegation continues. The Board may obtain information about activities in the areas delegated to the general manager.

C.2.1.1 The Board may change its policies, thereby shifting the boundary between Board and general manager domains. By doing so, the Board changes the latitude of choice given to the general manager. But as long as any particular delegation is in place, the Board will respect and support the general manager's choices.

C.2.1.2 This does not prevent the Board from obtaining information about activities in the delegated area.

C.2.2 All Board authority delegated to staff is delegated through the general manager, so that all authority and accountability of staff can be phrased - insofar as the Board is concerned - as authority and accountability to the general manager.

C.2.2.1 The Board will never give direction to persons who report directly or indirectly to the general manager, with the exception of staff whose job description includes facilitating the board's work. This does not prevent collaboration by Board and staff as authorized by the general manager.

C.2.2.2 The Board will refrain from evaluating, either formally or informally, any staff other than the general manager.

C.2.3 Any requests by the full Board for information on topics within the general manager's responsibility will be made clear and delivered to the general manager in a timely manner to allow for proper preparation of a response.

C.2.4 If the general manager deems it necessary to violate Board policy, they will inform the Board in a timely manner. Board response, either approving or disapproving, does not exempt the general manager from subsequent Board judgment of the action. Violation of Board policy shall not be kept from the Board.

C.3 - General Manager Job Contribution

The general manager is the Board's single official link to the operating organization and is accountable for organizational performance. The general manager exercises all authority transmitted into the organization by the Board. The general manager's performance will be considered synonymous with organizational performance.

The general manager's job contributions can be stated as performance in only two areas:

C.3.1 The general manager's job contributions will be based on the organizational accomplishment of Board policies on Ends.

C.3.2 The general manager's job contribution will also be based on the organizational operations being within the boundaries of prudence and ethics established in Board policies on Executive Limitations.

Approved 3/26/01

Amended 4/2/07

C.4 - Monitoring Management Performance

Monitoring Definition: Monitoring management performance is synonymous with monitoring organizational performance against Board policies on Ends and Executive Limitations.

C.4.1 Monitoring Purpose: The purpose of monitoring is to determine the degree to which Board policies are being fulfilled. It is the Board's responsibility to understand when the organization is making progress or is not accomplishing its goals.

C.4.2 Monitoring Methods: A given policy can be monitored in any or all of three ways:

C.4.2.1 Internal Report: One method of monitoring is by Internal Report, which describes the disclosure of compliance information to the Board from the general manager.

C.4.2.2 External Report: One method of monitoring is by External Report, which describes the discovery of compliance information by a disinterested external auditor, inspector or judge who is selected by, and reports directly to the Board. Such reports must assess the performance of the general manager only against policies of the Board, and not the standards set by the third party.

C.4.2.3 Direct Board Inspection: One method of monitoring is by Direct Board Inspection, which describes the discovery of compliance information by a Board member, officer, committee or the Board as a whole. Direct inspection will be performed only when requested by the Board as a whole.

C.4.3 Internal monitoring reports by the general manager shall include:

- C.4.3.1 A statement of the Board's policy;
- C.4.3.2 The General Manager's interpretation of the Board's policy;
- C.4.3.3 Data demonstrating compliance with the policy;
- C.4.3.4 A statement by the general manager regarding compliance;
- C.4.3.5 Date and signature.

C.4.4 The Board will judge (a) the reasonableness of the general manager's interpretation and (b) whether data demonstrates accomplishment of the interpretation.

C.4.5 The Board's standard for compliance with a policy will be any reasonable interpretation by the GM. The GM's interpretation does not need to be an interpretation that is favored by individual directors or by the Board as a whole.

C.4.6 Monitoring Schedule: Ends and Executive Limitations policies of the Board shall be monitored according to a set method and schedule established by the Board and general manager (see Appendix A), although the Board may monitor any policy at any time by any method.

D - BOARD PROCESS POLICIES

D.1 - Board Duties

The Board of Directors shall assure that the values and purpose of the Co-op, as described in the Ends Policies, are properly carried out and shall direct and control its business and affairs in the interests of its shareholders.<sup>3</sup>

D.1.1 Governing Style: The Board shall approach its responsibilities with an emphasis on strategic leadership and long-term impacts (Ends) rather than administrative detail, and shall maintain a clear distinction between Board and General Manager duties.

In this spirit, the Board shall:

D.1.1.1 Direct the organization through the careful establishment of the Ends as the overarching organizational values and policies.

Policies will address:

- Ends: Why the Co-op exists;
- Executive Limitations: How those Ends may and may not be achieved;
- Board - General Manager Relations: Describing how the Board relates to the General Manager;
- Board Process: How the Board fulfills its function.

D.1.2 Govern with excellence. Policies are enacted, implemented, and regularly reviewed concerning attendance, participation, differentiating between Board and management roles, speaking with one voice, and adherence to policies.

D.1.3 Be accountable to shareholders for competently, conscientiously and effectively carrying out its duties. It will not allow any individual Director or individual committee to usurp or hinder this process.

D.1.4 Use regularly-scheduled monitoring reports for each Board policy to discuss and assess the process and performance of the Board.

D.1.5 Ensure continuous improvement through regular training.

D.2 - Board Meetings

Board meetings are for the task of getting the Board's job done.

D.2.1 Meeting time shall be spent on work that is within the Board's scope of responsibilities.

D.2.2 Deliberation will be open, fair, to the point, thorough, and respectful of the time allocated within the agenda. When issues or topics arise that demand further discussion, a subcommittee can be formed to research and reflect on the subject and make suggestions for future agenda items.

D.2.3 The agenda is set by the Board President in consultation with the General Manager and includes "Shareholder input on issues." Any Director may propose adding or deleting items, subject to majority agreement.

D.2.4 Meetings are chaired by the President. A relaxed version of Robert's Rules of Order is observed except where the Board has superseded them with policy statements. A recording secretary takes minutes.

D.2.5 Meetings will be open to the shareholders except when executive session is officially called.<sup>4</sup>

D.2.6 The purpose of executive session is to discuss matters of a confidential nature such as GM evaluation, GM compensation, Board member breaches of conduct, etc. All discussions undertaken in Executive Session are confidential and all matters of confidentiality must be undertaken in Executive Session.

D.2.7 Staff Directors participate in Executive Sessions regarding issues other than the General Manager compensation.

D.2.8 Directors may request an Executive session. Authority to declare the session is the President's unless overridden by a simple majority.

D.9 For all Executive Sessions:

D.2.9.1 When possible, announcement of the Executive Session should be on the published agenda. The purpose of the session must be stated.

D.2.9.2 A motion must be made to go into Executive Session and approved by a majority of the Board.

D.2.10.3 The Board may invite anyone it chooses to participate in Executive Session.

D.2.11.4 No formal votes will be taken in Executive Session.

D.3 - Board Member Code of Conduct

The Board expects of itself, as a whole and each individual director, ethical, responsible and business-like conduct. Directors are legally responsible for discharging their duties in good faith, with the care an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would exercise under similar circumstances, and in a manner reasonably believed to be in the best interests of the Co-op.<sup>5</sup> Board members will abide by all Board Policies and Bylaws.

Board members agree to respect the following:

D.3.1 Directors will respect the confidentiality appropriate to issues of a sensitive nature and must continue to honor confidentiality after leaving Board meetings and/or Board service. Issues of a sensitive nature include, but are not limited to, personnel information, information identifying shareholders, unannounced expansion plans, strategies or other contractual relationships, certain legal issues that necessitate confidentiality, or draft documents that have not been released to the public.

D.3.1.1 Respecting the confidentiality appropriate to issues of a sensitive nature applies to Board members and anyone else participating in Board work.

D.3.2 Directors will conduct themselves as Board members rather than as individual shareholders. Directors will represent un-conflicted loyalty to the interests of the shareholders. This accountability supersedes any conflicting loyalty (e.g. to other advocacy or interest groups or other organizations) and supersedes the personal interest of any Director.

D.3.3 The Board of Directors speaks with one voice—the power of the Board is not as individuals but as a group.

D.3.3.1 Directors will not speak to the public, the press, or other entities for the Board.<sup>6</sup>

D.3.4 Directors or sub-groups of Directors will not attempt to exercise individual authority over staff, or make judgements of staff performance.

D.3.5 Directors or sub-groups of Directors will not attempt to exercise individual authority over the General Manager except as explicitly set forth in Board policies. Directors will make no judgments of the General Manager performance outside the process explicated in Board policies.

D.3.6 Directors will avoid any conflicts-of-interest.<sup>7</sup>

D.3.6.1 Directors have an affirmative obligation to state any possible conflict of interest of their own as well as that of another Director. The conflict of interest forms required of all directors shall be made freely available to all other directors.

D.3.6.2 A Director with a conflict of interest will not vote on the related issue and will absent themselves from discussion of the issue at the pleasure of the Board.

D.3.6.3 Directors will not use their position on the Board to leverage unfair competitive advantage

<sup>7</sup> By-laws Article V Board of Directors, Sec. 5.9 - Conflicts of Interest in conducting business with the Co-op

D.3.6.4 Directors will not use their positions to obtain for themselves, family members, or close associates employment or business with the Co-op.

D.3.7 Directors agree to follow these meeting procedures:

D.3.7.1 To monitor policies, according to current practice;

D.3.7.2 Directors are required to attend Board meetings and be prompt and prepared, having read the board packet and any additional documents carefully noting relevant questions or comments. The board packet shall be sent to Directors the week before each meeting.

D.3.7.3 If a Director is unable to attend a meeting, they will notify the President.

D.3.7.4 To provide the continuity necessary to conduct the business of the Board, Board members are required to attend regular Board meetings. A Board member who misses two regular Board meetings in a term year will be asked by the president to assess their ability to fulfill their responsibilities as a Board member. A Board member who misses four regular Board meetings in a term year must resign from the Board of Directors unless, in Executive Session, a majority of Board members vote to retain the Board member.

D.3.7.5 Directors will be prompt and prepared for meetings, having read the packet of information that is mailed to Directors the week before each meeting.

D.3.8 Board members have the responsibility to participate effectively in Board meetings. Specifically, each Board member has the responsibility to:

D.3.8.1 Come to Board meetings willing to participate responsibly;

D.3.8.2 Express one's own opinions;

D.3.8.3 Listen respectfully to the opinions of others; to honor divergent opinions;

D.3.8.4 Accept group decisions as legitimate;

D.3.8.5 Share responsibility for group behavior and productivity;

D.3.8.6 Support the Board President on Board discipline and Board accountability.

D.3.9 Board members who do not follow the Board Code of Conduct policy shall be removed from the Board by a two-thirds vote of the Board.<sup>8</sup>

D.3.10 All Directors shall complete and sign the Board-adopted Code of Conduct Agreement for Board of Directors each year at the first Board meeting they attend after the cooperative's Annual Meeting. Directors elected or appointed at other times shall complete and sign the Board agreement at their earliest convenience or at the first Board meeting they attend as director.

Refusal to complete and sign the Agreement will automatically disqualify any individual from the Board.

D.4 - Cost of Governance

Because poor governance costs more than learning to govern well, the Board will invest in its governance capacity.

Accordingly:

D.4.1 Board skills and methods will be sufficient to assure governing with excellence.

D.4.1.1 Training will be used to orient new Directors and Board candidates, as well as to maintain and increase skills of existing Directors. New Board members shall attend Policy Governance trainings at the earliest available opportunity in their first term.

D.4.1.2 The Board may decide to ask for outside assistance in considering its process and performance. This may include a fiscal audit of the Board budget.

D.4.2 Costs will be prudently incurred, though not at the expense of endangering the development and maintenance of superior capability.

D.4.2.1 Prior to the beginning of the fiscal year, the Board shall present annually to the General Manager a budget for the Board that will include expenses for: training, such as consultants and attendance at conferences and workshops; external, third-party monitoring of Board performance, such as audits and legal advice or reviews; outreach costs to link with shareholders, such as surveys, forums, focus groups, and the annual shareholder meeting; and Board perpetuation costs, such as meeting support, recruiting, and election costs.

D.4.3 Directors are compensated for time spent on Board business through receipt of shareholder engagement hours. Directors are responsible for proper recording and reporting of shareholder engagement hours earned. Shareholder engagement hours are earned for time spent at Board meetings and retreats, at committee meetings, preparing for meetings, working on assigned projects, and directly engaged in other Co-op business. Day(s)-long activities, such as workshops and conferences, will be compensated at a maximum of eight hours per day. Travel time to and from Board and committee meetings will not be compensated. Mileage to conferences and the like will be compensated at the normal Co-op rate. [By-laws Article V Board of Directors, Sec. 5.6 – Compensation]

Appendix B. Policy Governance® Source Document

Why a Source Document?

A “source” is a point of origin. A source document is a “fundamental document or record on which subsequent writings, compositions, opinions, beliefs, or practices are based.” (Webster’s)

Without a simply expressed clear point of source, interpretations, opinions, writings and implementations may intentionally or unintentionally diverge from the originating intent and ultimately be undifferentiated. The point of source (“authoritative source”) is John Carver, the creator of Policy Governance, with Miriam Carver his fellow master teacher.

Without a simply expressed clear source document, Policy Governance is not reliably grounded and not transferable as a paradigm of governance. It is left vulnerable to interpretation, adaptation and impotence. This document has been produced by the International Policy Governance Association and approved by John and Miriam Carver as being true to source.

What Policy Governance is NOT!

1. Policy Governance is not a specific Board structure. It does not dictate Board size, specific officers, or require a CEO. While it gives rise to principles for committees, it does not prohibit committees nor require specific committees.
2. Policy Governance is not a set of individual “best practices” or tips for piecemeal improvement.
3. Policy Governance does not dictate what a Board should do or say about group dynamics, methods of needs assessment, basic problem solving, fund raising, managing change.
4. Policy Governance does not limit human interaction or stifle collective or individual thinking.

What Policy Governance IS!

Policy Governance is a comprehensive set of integrated principles that, when consistently applied, allows governing Boards to realize owner-accountable organizations. Starting with recognition of the fundamental reasons that Boards exist and the nature of Board authority, Policy Governance integrates a number of unique principles designed to enable accountable Board leadership.

Principles of Policy Governance

1. Ownership:

The board exists to act as the informed voice and agent of the owners, whether they are owners in a legal or moral sense. All owners are stakeholders, but not all stakeholders are owners, only those whose position in relation to an organization is equivalent to the position of shareholders in a for-profit-corporation.

2. Position of Board:

The board is accountable to owners that the organization is successful. As such it is not advisory to staff but an active link in the chain of command. All authority in the staff organization and in components of the board flows from the board.

3. Board Holism:

The authority of the board is held and used as a body. The board speaks with one voice in that instructions are expressed by the board as a whole. Individual board members have no authority to instruct staff.

4. Ends Policies:

The board defines in writing its expectations about the intended effects to be produced, the intended recipients of those effects, and the intended worth (cost-benefit or priority) of the effects. These are Ends policies. All decisions made about effects, recipients, and worth are Ends decisions. All decisions about issues that do not fit the definition of Ends are means decisions. Hence in Policy Governance, means are simply not Ends.

5. Board Means Policies:

The board defines in writing the job results, practices, delegation style, and discipline that make up its own job. These are board means decisions, categorized as Governance Process policies and Board- Management Delegation policies.

6. Executive Limitations Policies:

The board defines in writing its expectations about the means of the operational organization. However, rather than prescribing board-chosen means -- which would enable the CEO to escape accountability for attaining Ends, these policies define limits on operational means, thereby placing boundaries on the authority granted to the CEO. In effect, the board describes those means that would be unacceptable even if they were to work. These are Executive Limitations policies.

7. Policy Sizes:

The board decides its policies in each category first at the broadest, most inclusive level. It further defines each policy in descending levels of detail until reaching the level of detail at which it is willing to accept any reasonable interpretation by the applicable delegatee of its words thus far. Ends, Executive Limitations, Governance Process, and Board-Management Delegation policies are exhaustive in that they establish control over the entire organization, both board and staff. They replace, at the board level, more traditional documents such as mission statements, strategic plans and budgets.

8. Clarity and Coherence of Delegation:

The identification of any delegatee must be unambiguous as to authority and responsibility. No subparts of the board, such as committees or officers, can be given jobs that interfere with, duplicate, or obscure the job given to the CEO.

9. Any Reasonable interpretation:

More detailed decisions about Ends and operational means are delegated to the CEO if there is one. If there is no CEO, the board must delegate to two or more delegatees, avoiding overlapping expectations or causing confusion about the authority of various managers. In the case of board means, delegation is to the CGO unless part of the delegation is explicitly directed elsewhere, for example, to a committee. The delegatee has the right to use any reasonable interpretation of the applicable board policies.

10. Monitoring:

The board must monitor organizational performance against previously stated Ends policies and Executive Limitations policies. Monitoring is for the purpose of discovering if the organization achieved a reasonable interpretation of these board policies. The board must therefore judge the CEO's interpretation for its reasonableness, and the data demonstrating the accomplishment of the interpretation. The ongoing monitoring of board's Ends and Executive Limitations policies constitutes the CEO's performance evaluation.

All other practices, documents, and disciplines must be consistent with the above principles. For example, if an outside authority demands board actions inconsistent with Policy Governance, the board should use a 'required approvals agenda' or other device to be lawful without compromising governance.

Policy Governance is a precision system that promises excellence in governance only if used with precision. These governance principles form a seamless paradigm or model. As with a clock, removing one wheel may not spoil its looks but will seriously damage its ability to tell time. So in Policy Governance, all the above pieces must be in place for Policy Governance to be effective. When all brought into play, they allow for a governing Board to realize owner accountability. When they are not used completely, true owner accountability is not available.

Policy Governance Boards live these principles in everything they are, do and say.
